Fish from the Pacific Ocean
Sold by New York Mayor

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—Four carloads of smelts, aggregating 80,000 pounds, arrived from the Pacific coast and were placed on sale by the mayor's food supply committee throughout the city. Potatoes can now be sold at retail for five cents a pound, yellow onions at nine, carrots, beets and parsnips four to five cents, according to a review of food conditions published by the weights and measure bureau commissioner. Food is now arriving daily and the crisis is over.

SHIPBUILDERS
RUSH WARSHIPS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 8.—American ship builders engaged on government work entered into an agreement with Secretary Daniels today to accept new contracts at a flat rate of 10 per cent profit and pledged co-operation in rushing to completion the navy's construction program.

Virtually all of the larger private plants in the country were represented in the conference. The builders, who have been netting from 20 to 30 per cent on merchant steamers said they were willing to turn to government contracts at 10 per cent as a patriotic duty, and Huber, when arrested, tried to poison himself.

SEVEN OFFICE BOYS
CONTROL THE TRUST

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 8.—In reargument before the supreme court today of the federal dissolution suit against the International Harvester company, Attorney-General Gregory personally presented the government's reason for seeking disintegration of the so-called trust. He declared that if the intent of Congress to prohibit undue concentration of capital and restraint of competition were not carried out, government control, if not ownership in all likelihood would follow with its evils and dangers.

"Such colossal combinations of capital, enjoying preponderant control of an industry, even if good combinations, are illegal and harmful," the attorney general argued. He pointed to evidence that the defendant controls between 77 and 85 per cent of the harvesting machinery trade, asserting that one "dum-

JUSTICE TO THE LIVING DEMANDS THAT THE WHOLE TRUTH BE TOLD

LONDON, Mar. 8.—The majority report of the commission appointed to inquire into the responsibility for the Dardanelles expedition early in 1915, declares Colonel Winston Spencer Churchill, then first lord of the admiralty, initiated it. The report criticizes the war council for its decision to make the attack purely naval rather than a joint military and naval attack and for failure to consider the plans more carefully. The commission criticizes Kitchener for not availing himself of the services of his general staff and for trying to accomplish more than one man could do, with confusion and of efficiency. Commissioners say, the expedition, however, secured certain important advantages and adds: "Whether these advantages were worth the loss of life and treasure

Splendid Opportunities Lie
in Depths of Litigation Hill

(By Wm. McClure Gotwald.)
"Look here, Slim, see what the trader rats have done to my home-stake," said an old hardrock miner, entering P. O. Harris' third emporium at Manhattan and throwing a bundle of green goods on the bar.

Investigation showed that the packet contained stock in more than a score of mining corporations in the Pine Tree camp. The edges were nibbled sparingly, as though even the voracious trader rats didn't think very much of the stuff as a means of sustenance.

"I have kept this stuff in my cabin for about 11 years," the hard rock miner continued, "and many a time I have been tempted to throw it away, but now I want you to put it in your safe, for it contains some White Caps, Dexter Con., Union Amalgamated, Morning Glory and a lot of other stuff that now are like United States gold certificates. Keep it till fall and then watch your Uncle Dudley take a palace car trip back home to see the old village in New Hampshire."

This is a typical Manhattan incident. The old stocking is being drawn from the mantle piece, the rusty can dug up in the back yard. A paragraph as to Manhattan's history will reveal the reason. When the century was in its swaddling clothes, the camp in the Toquimas was born. Its infancy was brief lived and Manhattan was a lousy lad in a few months. The road from Tonopah was a pillar of dust cloud by day and of camp fires by night.

With the people came money and the tinkling of pianos and rattling of chips were soon heard far up and down the gulch, while the whirr of sheave wheels on the hill sides was punctuated by the roar of giant powder rending rocks.

Green paper was issued in sheaves and bales, and the most of its would have made good had it not been for the cataclysm on the morning of April 18, 1906, when San Francisco rocked upon its foundations and wasted itself in flame.

From the city by the Golden Gate came the greater portion of the support lent to Manhattan flotations and the ruin of the city spelled the decadence of the Pine Tree camp, then not able yet to stand alone. That is why the hard rock miner permitted the trader rats to gnaw upon his neatly engrossed stock certificates. He felt that the money and toll they represented had been lost.

Now Manhattan has returned and, like a tub, is standing upon its own bottom. The source of enrichment has been found in the great pipes in Litigation hill, reaching upward from the pregnant alaskite, dissolving the uplifted limes and re-precipitating as calcite, filled, coated and neighbored by stibnite, sphalerite and sulphide of gold—the black, putty-like stuff for which the miners fought in the Mohawk days. But great as was the Mohawk, it carried but narrow seams of this treasure laden clay. The White Caps has it, though in lesser value, in great pipes and lenses. Jewelry ore sparkles on the very outcrops of the

STICKS IN THE MUD, AND A MAIN BREAKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 8.—The Steiger terra cotta and pottery works, South San Francisco, were almost totally burned today with an estimated loss of $1,000,000. One fireman was hurt. The fireboat got stuck in the mud and was rendered helpless. Then a fire main burst, hampering the fight.

Walter Dennison, president of the company, charged that the fire was incendiary. He said operation of the plant has been hampered by labor troubles. He places the loss at $250,000, half insured.

Women has Right of Search
When Man Sews Pockets

Mrs. Samuel Kell testified that her husband's pay was $15 weekly and that he gave her only $4 or $5 to run the house and keep the children. After she took $17 he sewed up his pockets and took his trousers to bed with him.

CUMMINS USES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 8.—The senate passed the amendment giving two-thirds of their number the power to prevent a filibuster.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 8.—The senate took up the cloture amendment which was approved by both houses. Senator Sherman, Republican, who voted against the rule yesterday, said the president's statement condemning the senators deliberately omitted a "portion of the truth and sought to make the rules of the senate the scapegoat in an emergency."

He said the president had not referred to the congestion of legisla-

Papers seized in the Hindu's home bear the address of Zimmerman.

CHRISTIANS SLAIN
BY MOHAMMEDANS

NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—Massacres of Armenians were inspired by the desire of the Turkish ruling class to eliminate from the empire all sects and creeds except that of Mohammedanism, according to Lord to the United States, in a cablegram to the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief made public tonight.

BY MOHAMMEDANS

"During these recent massacres whenever any Christian would turn Mohammedan he was spared," said Lord Bryce in his message. "Many a Christian child was torn from its parents to be brought up as a Mussulman. Thousands of Armenian Christian girls were sold into the market or distributed among Turkish officers to be imprisoned for life in Turkish harems and therefore forced into Mohammedanism."

"But many more thousands of Armenians, women as well as men, were offered their choice between tive business. Senator Cummins, who had not signed the manifesto favoring passage of the bill, declared "any man in the senate or out of it, of high or low degree, who said I conspired to defeat the bill, deliberately falsifies."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 8.—A majority of the house, Leader Kitchin told his colleagues, has agreed that an extra session be arranged not later than the middle of May. Signs continue to multiply that the president will soon act to relieve the suspension of American shipping caused by fear of submarines. It is not clear whether to arm vessels, convoy them, or have them taken over as auxiliary naval craft or call a special session to take up the neutrality bill. The president has been advised that he has sufficient power to arm merchantmen without action by Congress.
